

RNA strand assembly in a gene region of DNA; then RNA moves to cytoplasm.

Each code word in a gene (nucleotide triplet) calls for a specific amino acid, which becomes linked with others into a polypeptide chain (protein primary structure).

The new proteins serve as structural proteins and as enzymes for constructing other organic substances (destined to become cell parts or products).

Overview of protein synthesis.